THE MAC

Volume IX

McGraw Central School
McGraw, New York

F o r e w o r d

On the other side of these doors lie many opportunities for every young person to prepare himself for a better future. Day after day as the doors swing open, the school girl and boy enter the great storehouse of knowledge where the caretakers and teachers wait to show them how to use the key to release the enlightenment held within the confines of the ages.

As time marches on, these doors just as in the past will continuously swing wide to welcome all who seek knowledge and wisdom. Information will change to keep pace with the times, but always there will remain the opportunities, the givers and the seekers.

Dedication

The Yearbook Club of 1956 is proudly dedicating the ninth edition of "The Mac" to Everett Rulison who for the past six years has had charge of the bus garage. Besides this, Mr. Rulison is one of the regular bus drivers and teaches welding for the Adult Education Classes.

Repairing and keeping eight buses and three station wagons in "tip-top" shape is in itself a task, but many smaller things occur frequently such as; flat tires, broken chains, driving for field trips and basketball games which take up much time.

Although much responsibility rests on Mr. Rulison's shoulders, he finds time to answer questions and help the shopboys with their mechanical problems. Many times we take for granted the things done for us by people such as Mr. Rulison—to him in sincere appreciation we dedicate "The 1956 Mac."

Adult Supervision

As we look back, a great many different feet have walked the halls and classrooms of McGraw Central School. Each year a new group begins and another group leaves. The dividends of your investment in education are the changes brought about in the lives of these boys and girls that make them better citizens in your community, state, nation, and world. The Board of Education and administration are continually trying to make your investment pay higher dividends by improving the teaching and the facilities for teaching.

The following poem by Viney Wilder entitled "Your Investment In Character Building" expresses this line of thought in an interesting and helpful manner.

*With infinite patience, compassion, and love
That share in a wisdom beyond and above
The mere act of duty and all it implies
We'll answer the challenge we see in youth's eyes;*

*We'll give them ideals and we'll help them to climb
The difficult hills, we will give them our time,
We'll teach them by being ourselves, first of all
Examples in moral and spiritual law.*

*We'll be more concerned with the values we give,
With the streets and the towns where children must live;
Through vision that sees the potential in youth
The world can be saved for tomorrow and truth.*

For many years, Leroy Baer, Principal of McGraw Central, has unselfishly devoted himself to the welfare of members of the student body and the faculty. He's helped many of us over a rough spot. Here he looks the true administrator, but later in the book you'll find him in a not so serious role.

The Student Council has been busy planning the assembly programs for this year. In this picture, they are going over the calendar with the assemblies listed on it.

Cafeteria Personnel

Mrs. Marlea Bean is the cook manager and Mary Moore and Marjorie Ferris are assistant managers. They are developing a strong nutritional program in our school, serving between 300 and 360 balanced meals a day.

They Keep Moving

Our custodians have a long and hard job keeping our rooms and building clean. They also keep the outside attractive—mowing, making repairs, and shoveling walks.

The drivers of our school buses have to watch out for the safety of the students. They do a good job. Besides their regular route, some of them drive for special activities such as: basketball games and swimming lessons. We are very grateful for the bus drivers who are always ready to do what they can to make these outside sports available to us, the student body.

O f f i c e

Mrs. Muriel Hulbert is a very efficient office secretary. Her duties include, in addition to regular office routine, the filling out of high school report cards, and the assisting of students with their problems. She's always ready with a friendly smile and a helping hand for everyone.

Checking the weight of every member of the school body is just one health service rendered by the school nurse. The picture shows Mrs. Pat Holstein, school nurse, weighing Christine Semeraro, a kindergartner, who is receiving her first general health check-up.

H e a l t h

In this picture, Mrs. Betty Busekist is bandaging Marlene Delow. Mrs. Busekist has been with us since January, replacing Mrs. Holstein. She is no newcomer to McGraw, having worked here from September of '53 to June of '55.

Classes

Off We Go

The twenty-eight members of the Senior Class of 1956 have had a wonderful year. They have the largest class that has ever been graduated from McGraw Central. Our first big project of this year was the Senior Play under the direction of Mrs. Anthony. Although we fooled around backstage, off stage, and on stage, "Headed for Eden" was a success on November 17 and 18.

After the fun of the Senior Play it took us a while to settle down to serious work such as selling ads for our yearbook, the "Mac." Once we got started, we proved to be good salesmen for we went over the required amount. With the yearbook ads collected or billed, we started our plans for the Senior trip. With all our plans completed, we left for New York and Washington on March 23, spending five exciting days touring New York City and enjoying the beauty of our Nation's Capital. Although the trip is over we will remember forever the fun we had.

All through the many activities, there was still homework. With help from Mrs. Nellenback, our class advisor, we managed to be a success in activities and homework. Our class was exceptionally active in extracurricular activities. All eleven boys of our class participated in sports during high school, and seven of our girls have been cheerleaders. Twenty-five of the seniors have taken part in the chorus. They have also been represented in the band, Rifle, F.H.A., F.F.A., and other activities offered at M.C.S. The class of 1956 selected the blue carnation as the class flower, light pink and light blue as class colors, and the motto: "One thorn of experience is worth a whole wilderness of warning."

Second row: Raymond Allen, Stuart Freer, Carole Berean, Marion Towers, Mrs. Anthony, Kenneth Kersey, Janice Towsley, Gloria Kelley, Robert Card, Mary Elizabeth Corey.

Freshmen

Freshman Class Officers:

RONALD CONGDON	President
CHARLES NIVER	Vice President
ROBERT REYNOLDS	Secretary
CHARLOTTE MILLER	Treasurer
SHARON CONNELLY	Student Council Rep.

Standing: Charlotte and Sharon. Sitting: Robert, Charles, and Ronald.

Door to Knowledge

English 9 students prepare book reports. Carol and Ronald use the dictionaries as Barbara searches for a sheet of paper. Clifford is thinking intently while Lyle has a question to ask before he can get started.

A basic part of the study of literature for English III is to learn about the condition that existed during the period in which the literary selection being studied was written. Velma, Genevieve, Jack, and Felix are doing research on the historical background for Dickens' great novel, A Tale of Two Cities.

Good speech is important to the attainment of one's personal goal in life. As a part of the English IV course of study, individual speaking and group speaking is emphasized. From left to right are seniors: Donald, John, Vivian, and Patti who are listening to the play-back of a panel discussion.

Ninth Year Civics is an introductory course in Citizenship Education. This is made up of Geography, Resources, Cultures of the World, and Current Events. Connie, Charlotte, and Marilyn are using library material to find out more about the subject they chose for a research paper.

As Others Marched

American History is a senior subject. This Citizenship Education course covers all phases of past American history and correlates it with present day World problems. Dave—What're you trying to locate for Kay?

Pearl Hayes and Vesta Hines are watching Darrell Corl as he shows them some Geometric designs drawn by the Plane Geometry Class.

Adding Steps

Left to right: Janice VanEpps, Beverly Nauseef, Raymond Owens, Janice Strack. Under the direction of "Doc" Whitehead, the struggling medical students performed their first operation. While probing the inside of the animal a study was made of the alimentary canal. The patient gave his all for medical research; the opossum is no longer with us.

Left to right: Velma Kelly, Lois Stevens, Betty Potter. These girls have learned to set the table in the proper fashion and to prepare the food for their meals. This is just one of the many things taught the Future Homemakers of America. Velma and Betty look as if they're enjoying Lois' serving.

Pauses That Refresh

Stop!

In the driver education program, the students must know and understand the functions of the various parts of the automobile found underneath the hood. David is demonstrating his knowledge by showing Sharon and Beverly some of the mixed up parts that make an automobile operate.

Look!

After learning how the car operates mechanically and how one drives a car, the students learn how to do the discouraging and disgusting, but fast disappearing task of changing a tire. Here, Jacqueline and Sylvia are co-operating in order to get the job done faster. Sylvia has approved Jackie's method of jacking the car.

One of the duties of a librarian is to assist students to understand how to locate specific information by using the index of any book related to the subject to be studied. John, Nancy, Sylvia, and Jim with help from Mrs. Cross are finding their problems enjoyable.

Key to Learning

First row, front to back: Mahlon Moon, Barbara Gates, Eugene Russell, Joyce Ryan. Second row: Sharon Connelly, Clifford Parkin, John Nauseef, Diane Allis. The Latin I pupils are busy doing some last minute reviewing for a test. Joyce is giving Eugene a little extra help while Diane is helping John. Mahlon, Barbara, and Sharon seem to be doing all right but Clifford needs help.

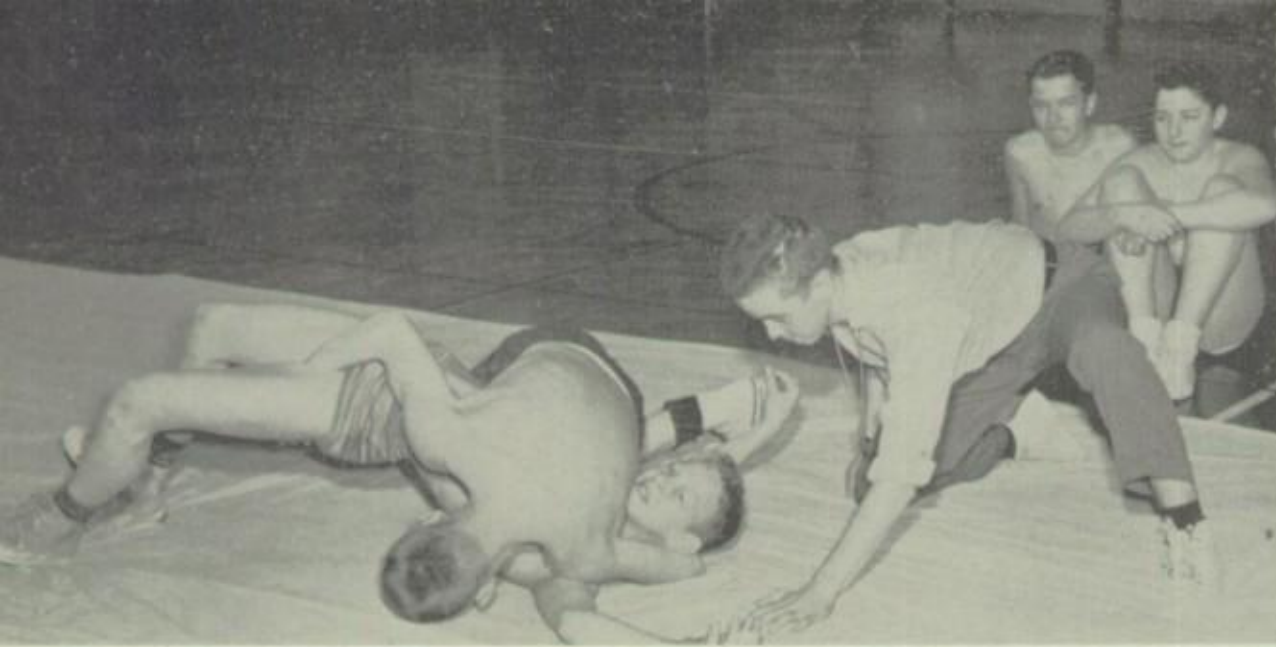

Left to right: Diane Hall, Gene Connelly, Nancy Smith, Madge Alcott. This is our school store which is run by the Sales and Business Management classes under Mr. Brown. The store carries school, gym, and music supplies to benefit the student of all grades. Officers are Gene Connelly, Manager; Robert Phillips, Treasurer; Marge Alcott, Secretary, with profits going toward an annual trip to Syracuse.

Mr. Brown, the typing instructor, is explaining the fundamental parts of the typewriter to Sharon Winfield and Richard Stafford. There are two typing classes every day. These classes also meet one extra period a week acting as a secretarial pool to type letters, stencils, and manuscripts that are needed by teachers in school.

This is the communication unit in Introduction to Business. Carole Bilodeau and Lyle Bush are showing the correct way to use the telephone furnished by the New York State Telephone Co. in Cortland.

Cooperation is the basic factor in gymnastics. The shoulder-knee balance is one stunt that exemplifies this essential. Gail and Ailene perform it with ability and precision.

During the school year our gym classes try to perfect themselves in different sports. In September we start football, soccer and various other outside sports. About the last of November comes basketball and volleyball.

After the basketball play-offs we start stunts and workouts on the rings. As the year draws to a close baseball and track are the predominant sports.

Janice Towsely and Beverly Towers—Janice and Beverly are practicing for the gym demonstration. This shows the precision and balance required for the stunts.

Getting in Condition

Here we are making a scrapbook for a member of the class, Annette Parson, who has rheumatic fever. It was fun for us doing it and we shared some of our ideas with her. Left to right: Kathleen, Wayne, Marcia, Thomas.

First Grade Classes

Robert and Adele are shown at the clocks. First graders learn to tell time. Each of these clocks shows the time of some of our day's activities.

Dixie, Dixie, James and Sharon are learning how to make fudge. We had fun learning and fun eating.

Shirley, Roxanne, and Marlan are painting hangers as Christmas presents for their mothers. On these hangers are hooks for hanging belts.

Michael Cameron and Gilda Cruver are reviewing words. After identifying the word on an apple they pick the apple and put it in the basket. Each pupil tries to see who can get the most apples in the basket.

Kindergarten

Mrs. Rowe made silhouettes of each child in her grade. In this picture the silhouette is Christine and standing, looking at her is Paul.

Suzanne, Ronald, Peter, and Barbara learn the importance of sharing during their play period. Teetering is an activity where taking turns is essential.

While David, Susan, and Alan take turns adding to the stack of hollow boxes, Wayne looks on wondering when they'll fall.

Blodgett Mills First and Second Grades

These second graders are working with their own clocks on how to tell time. Scott is showing Susan, Sheila and Wesley a certain time on his clock. The children made their own clocks and they like to find the time with them.

These first graders are playing a number game. Arlets and Robert have each taken a card by giving the correct answer. Richard has just given the correct answer so he can take a card. The children like this game and each one tries to get the most cards.

Third and Fourth Grades

One of the projects covered in fifth grade Social Studies is Transportation. In this picture, Nancy is showing Thomas and Donna the pictures we have on our bulletin board on the development of transportation. Thomas is pointing to the picture illustrating traveling by stage coach.

Janie received a new globe for a Christmas gift. She was so delighted with her gift that she brought it to school. Here, she is showing Wilma and Adrienne how to read latitudes and longitudes and how to read degrees on the globe.

"Headed for Eden," by Sidney Duvall is a dramatic comedy which takes place in a career girl's boarding house on the south side of Chicago. The play is motivated by Kate Roberts' friends who are determined to help her clear her brother's name. Of course, when girl meets boy there is bound to be a love interest. This happens, not once but three times during the unravelling of the plot. The play was produced by special arrangement with Row Peterson and Company.

This is your Junior Red Cross council representing members from grade seven to twelve. They have charge of all Junior Red Cross activities. In the fall they conducted the annual membership drive, at Thanksgiving they prepared a menu, purchased and delivered a food basket for at least two meals to a family of nine members, and in the spring they supervised the filling of gift boxes for boys and girls overseas. First row, left to right: Jerry Campbell, Genevieve Ryan, Pearl Hayes, Stuart Freer, Carole Hoose, Delores Mallory. Second row: Rosalee Turner, Robert Hamilton, Mrs. Schaff, Joyce Ryan, Judy Nauseef.

These assist our school librarian at the desk, each working in his free period. Here Jimmy and Gary are waiting while Dorothy charges a book to Mike.

Cifford, Bob, Dale, Doug and Don assist Mrs. Cross in getting new books ready to be put into circulation. They also repair any which have become damaged and help keep the many books on the library shelves in proper order.

L i b r a r y

Front: Charlotte Miller, Elaine Muncy. Rear: Verna Hollenback, Beverly Towers. Charlotte, Elaine, Verna, and Beverly keep back issues of popular magazines in chronological order for easy reference. They also take care of the equipment and supplies.

The rifle team did it again this year. They won the Section IV Championship for the third consecutive year under Mr. Baer's supervision and expert coaching. The High Individual Trophy in the Section was won by Evan Hulbert with a score of 237 (out of 250). This is a mate to the trophy won by David Reynolds last year with 188 (out of 200).

In a majority of the matches this year five shots kneeling were added to the usual ten prone, five sitting, and five standing. Thus, the possible individual score was 250 and the possible team score was 1250 in these matches.

Five boys shooting regularly on the team showed outstanding improvements. Hulbert and Reynolds have earned the Distinguished Rifleman award, the highest award, prescribed by the NRA in the Junior Division. Hopkins and Baer should complete their qualifications before the season is over. Beiter has completed the qualifications for Expert and will work for the Distinguished next season.

The team goes to Deposit April 21 to enter the NRA Sectional. Last year McGraw placed first with a score of 715 out of 800 with 19 teams competing. Evan Hulbert won first place in the individual match with a score of 183. The Rifle Club, composed of both boys and girls, had a successful season. For the most part they fired noon hours from December through March. They all showed marked improvement and although the team will lose Reynolds and Crandall by graduation we should have a fine team next year.

The girls shot against the Weedsport girls and lost 421 to 462.

The Board of Education has improved the facilities of the club this year by purchasing five target rifles and acoustical tile to apply to the wall and ceiling. The tile was put on, at no expense, by Mr. Baer and team members. The Club wishes to thank the board for their interest in this activity.

Your Aim Must Be True

THANK YOU, MR. HAMMOND

The members of the Yearbook Club wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Carl Hammond who has so generously contributed to "The Mac" again this year. Yearbooks cost money and without cooperation from the merchants we could not sell our books at a price within range of our students. And that has been the Club's purpose—to get our yearbooks into as many McGraw homes as possible. We are singling out Mr. Hammond because he is retiring from business this school year. We have appreciated his advertising since we started "The Mac." It is advertisers and contributors like Mr. Hammond who make it possible for us to publish our annual yearbook.
